READING PROCESS WORKSHEET

GED0001

NAME: Rogosh Jhon Mendoza SECTION: TQ01

TEXT TITLE: Student Perceptions of ChatGPT Use in a College Essay Assignment: Implications for Learning, Grading, and Trust in Artificial Intelligence DATE: _____

TEXT TYPE: Research Article AUTHOR: Chad C. Tossel et al.

I. PRE-READING (10 POINTS)

A. Complete the table with the headings, subheadings, and visual titles/descriptions from the text. Provide at least 2 entries for each column.

Headings	Subheadings	Title/Description of Visuals
Introduction	Related Work	Figure 1: Students' perceptions of ChatGPT pre- and post-assignment
Method	Participants	Figure 2: Trust ratings by dimension

B. Fill the table with information that you already know about the topic (K), you wonder about the topic (W), and you will learn after reading the text (L). Fill the L Column after reading the text. Provide at least 2 entries for each column.

K	W	L
Usage of ChatGPT in college assignment.	Is AI reliable?	Students found ChatGPT valuable for learning but did not want to grade alone.
The reliance of students in AI in college.	Will it be abuse by student using it?	Using ChatGPT made the assignment more difficult.

READING PROCESS WORKSHEET

GED0001

NAME: Rogosh Jhon Mendoza SECTION: TQ01

TEXT TITLE: Student Perceptions of ChatGPT Use in a College Essay Assignment: Implications for Learning, Grading, and Trust in Artificial Intelligence DATE: _____

TEXT TYPE: Research Article AUTHOR: Chad C. Tossel et al.

II. READING (30 POINTS)

A. Fill the table with specific details from the text and inferences that can be drawn from it. Provide at least 2 entries for each column.

Details from the Text	Plausible Inferences
Participants found the ChatGPT assisted assignment to be more harder than expected	The assisted assignment have been harder because students don't know what to do to the information generated by AI
Students find the instructor grading more trusting than with ChatGPT	They find the instructors grading more trusting due to human feedback, which ChatGPT lack the human feedback to assess the students valuation on their work.

B. Figure out the meaning of the technical term from the text. Write the technical term, indicate the clue from the text, and use the term in your own sentence. Provide at least 2 entries for each column.

Technical Term	Context Clue (i.e., antonym, synonym, examples, description, word parts, definition or any clues in the text	Use each technical term in a sentence
1. Generative AI	AI systems that create original text, images, or code from user prompts	Tools that can generate movie scripts, news articles, and journal manuscripts.
2. LLM (Large Language Model	A model trained on vast text data to understand and generate language, powering apps like ChatGPT	The LLM powering ChatGPT learned from billions of web pages.
3. Trustworthiness	How reliable, capable, ethical, transparent, and benevolent an AI system is perceived to be.	Users questioned the trustworthiness of the chatbot's medical advice.
4. AWE (Automated Writing Evaluation)	Technology that automatically assesses writing, saving teachers time by providing instant feedback.	The AWE system flagged weak thesis statements in student essays.
5. Bayes Factor	A statistical measure weighing evidence for the null vs. alternative hypothesis.	The Bayes factor confirmed the intervention had a significant effect.

READING PROCESS WORKSHEET

GED0001

NAME: Rogosh Jhon Mendoza SECTION: TQ01

TEXT TITLE: Student Perceptions of ChatGPT Use in a College Essay Assignment: Implications for Learning, Grading, and Trust in Artificial Intelligence DATE: _____

TEXT TYPE: Research Article AUTHOR: Chad C. Tossel et al.

C. Supply the missing information below:

1. Topic of the text: Students perception on ChatGPT used in college essay writing
2. Writer's opinion about the text's topic: The author believes that ChatGPT should be integrated into education with human guidance rather than ban it.
3. Support for writer's opinion (e.g., evidence such as facts, testimonies, examples, etc.):
    a. Showing the assignmnent was more difficult, showing ChatGPT doesn't really work.
    b. Students wanted ChatGPT to grade their work alone.
    c. Students found ChatGPT good for learning

III. POST-READING (10 POINTS)

A. Answer the following rhetorical analysis guide questions.

1. What credentials does the author have which give him/her the authority to write about the topic of the text? The authors are academics from the US Air Force Academy and University of Alabama in Huntsville, with expertise in psychology, human factors, and human-computer interaction. Their backgrounds lend credibility to the study's rigorous mixed-methods design.

2. After considering the author's profession and affiliation, what possible biases the author might have about the topic? The author may favor the human factor and may be biased toward finding positive result.

3. What is the purpose of the text, and how does the author accomplish that purpose? What evidence does the author use to support the main idea in the text? The purpose is to empirically examine student perceptions of ChatGPT in college essay writing and inform educators about effective AI usage.
4. What specific idea/information in the text challenges or surprises you? Why? The most surprising finding is that using ChatGPT made the assignment more difficult rather than easier. This contradicts the common assumption that AI makes the work more easy.

5. Is the style of writing suitable for the intended audience? Is it too formal or too casual? Why? The writing style is appropriately formal for an academic journal targeting researchers, educators, and educational technology professionals.